

Northern Maine Touring Loop

Day 1

Bangor

Whether flying or driving, Bangor is the starting place for this adventure.

Take advantage of the four miles of access roads and nine miles of trails at the Bangor City Forest for hiking, biking and running. Watch for animals or examine plants on the one-mile Orono Bog Walk, beginning on the edge of forested wetland.

If you are a Stephen King fan, SK Tours of Maine cannot be missed. This three-hour tour takes you on a narrated tour of Bangor to see sites significant to Stephen King's stories.

Check in at the Best Western White House Inn for the night.

Day 2

Greenville

Make your way an hour and a half northwest to Greenville, at the southern-most tip of Moosehead Lake. Along the way, enjoy the natural beauty of Maine and keep an eye out for moose.

On the edge of Moosehead Lake sits Mount Kineo, providing 360-degree views of the surrounding lake and mountains. Take the short hike to the top to see for miles.

Enjoy time on Maine's largest lake with Katahdin Cruises and The Moosehead Marine Museum. This steamboat takes you back in time while the museum details the rich history of the region.

Settle in at the Lodge at Moosehead Lake, surrounded by Moosehead Lake, the northern Maine woods, and fantastic mountain views.

Day 3

Katahdin Woods & Waters

Head over to the Millinocket area where you can easily venture off to the Katahdin Woods & Waters National Monument. Take the Katahdin Woods & Waters Scenic Byway to enjoy the area and see spectacular views of Mount Katahdin, find hidden hiking trails, and spot swimming holes.

Stay overnight at New England Outdoor Center in a well-appointed cabin.

Day 4

Millinocket

From New England Outdoor Center, kayak or canoe on Millinocket Lake for a peaceful paddle before heading back to Bangor along Route 11.
